

Green Guide for London

The handbook for sustainable living in London

seventh edition, completely revised with a new directory, 784 pages, full colour, softback & hardback, printed on FSC-certified paper in the UK, published in June 2016

Distributed widely across London in bookshops, retail outlets and specialist stores. Also available online food • fashion • shopping • home • energy • reuse sharing • wellbeing • transport • holidays • leisure • travel sustainability • business • politics • media • education

At 784 pages printed in full colour, this entirely new London edition will be the biggest and most comprehensive Green Guide to date. The directory contains more than 5,000 entries covering the whole gamut of sustainable urban living. The comprehensive listings are put into context with over 180 pages of editorial, including essays from some of London's leading eco-thinkers and writers alongside 120 case studies, profiles, and reports on the projects that are making the city greener.

The Green Guide for London will be published in two formats: a softback priced £16.99 and a hardback with a dust cover priced £25.00. Full colour throughout with stunning photography, including more than a dozen full page images, the book is printed in England on FSC-certified paper and to the highest eco standards.

The Green Guides are for the millions of people – consumers and those in business and education – who are seeking out sustainable, greener and more ethical choices in their everyday lives. From food to fashion, from home to office, and from travel to leisure, these people want a way of life and work that is healthier, more natural, better and fairer. The Green Guide covers it all and offers an option for just about anything at home, at play and at work.
